Internet Safety Week – Support for Parents 9th–12th Feb

As part of Internet Safety Week, we want to help families feel confident supporting children to stay safe online. Even our youngest children may use tablets, apps or watch online videos, so it's important that parents know where to find trusted advice. Below are some useful, parent-friendly websites offering simple guidance on parental controls, talking to children about online safety, and understanding apps and games. We encourage families to explore these together at home.
